A Message from President Ellis

In recognition of his 20 years of service as president, Dr. Calvert N. Ellis '23 was requested by the Board of Trustees to deliver this year's Commencement address to the seniors. In his introductory, the President pointed out that it was hard to realize that forty years ago he received his diploma from Juniata College and twenty years ago assumed the responsibilities for the administration of this college.

"When I was graduated I had no intention of ever returning to Huntingdon or to Juniata College," Dr. Ellis admitted. He turned down the late President Martin Grove Brumbaugh in 1928. But three years later "at the invitation of my father, we came back to Juniata."

The president explained that "these have been 32 years of excitement and challenge." Then he said: "Nowhere could I imagine a finer fellowship of dedicated friends and conscientious students who have gone from this hill across this country and to far places."

"When I was asked to address you (the members of the Class of 1963) I wondered what I could say that would be worth your time and that you might remember," President Ellis stated. The subject he chose is "Tomorrow's Promise" which stresses that the future of Juniata College and its alumni are bound together.

TOMORROW'S PROMISE

WHAT PROMISE does the next twenty years hold for you and for Juniata College? How well prepared are you to meet the opportunities of these two decades? How will Juniata College meet this promise? Your future and the future of Juniata College are inexorably bound together. What you do will add to the reputation of this college, your Alma Mater. Without your concern and assistance Juniata will not meet tomorrow's promise.

There have always been those who viewed the future as doom, not promise. The threat of nuclear destruction has increased their number. The complexity of life, the increase in technical knowledge and the restlessness of people all over this world have produced anxiety and despair. I have heard predictions of the demise of the independent liberal arts college ever since I was a student on this campus. It is true that a smaller percentage of students in higher education attend private colleges and universities than twenty years ago. We have had a college explosion as well as a population explosion. A much larger percentage, and a larger absolute number, of young men and women are pursuing higher education. The public, tax-supported institutions are expanding to meet this demand. However, never did the future hold so much for the independent liberal arts college—and for Juniata. Tomorrow's promise is increasing recognition of the distinctive education Juniata College offers as represented by the willingness of parents to pay for it, of students to borrow against their future, and of friends to generously support it.

A World of Change

Tomorrow's promise is a world of change. Several months ago in Atlantic City I heard Dr. Alvin Eurich say, "The changes of the next forty years will equal in significance those of the last four hundred. Travel to Europe and other parts of the world will be only a matter of an hour or so. Travel to other planets may be commonplace. Television and radio will go into homes on a world-wide basis, and receiving sets the size of a wrist watch will be available. Computers will translate languages automatically; the language barrier will be a thing of the past." These are only a few of the predicted changes which will be a challenge to your education and to all institutions of higher learning.

Dr. Ralph W. Tyler of Stanford University estimates that 50% of the occupations which the 1963 graduates of American colleges and universities will enter did not exist when these young people were born. The contributions to knowledge in the natural sciences made since World War II are greater than all those made in all previous recorded history. Some of the most interesting discoveries have been made by the geneticists and biochemists who have given us the knowledge and techniques to mould human beings to specification. We will be able to direct the evolution of mankind, both physically and socially. This is a terrifying prospect, but one of which all of us must take account.

Just this month Dr. Margaret Mead, the noted anthropologist, said, "These children that are born now think the world was made the way it is today—complete with transistors. They need someone who gives them some kind of perspective—someone who can convince them that you could be born in one world, grow up in another, and grow old in a third."

It is certain that many of you graduating today will in the year two thousand be engaged in activities, professional and recreational, which you now do not imagine. It is equally certain that Juniata College will have undergone changes which we cannot predict.

Flexibility and Freedom

If you are to meet tomorrow's promise, you who are graduating today will need flexibility and freedom. You will be forced to make choices amid rapidly changing circumstances. The phrase "liberal arts" means "the arts becoming to a free man." You are a free man or woman if you have developed the skills and discipline which make it possible for you to pursue the course of action you have decided is your distinctive contribution to life. At one time in your life this may be one profession and at another it may be something very different. The ease of transportation and communication means not only geographical flexibility but also vocational displacement. Nobel prize winners in science are serving with distinction in government and education. Women, while rearing a family, are employed in education and industry—and a few have been elected to office in various levels of government. You cannot predict where or how you will spend your years, but the real test of your education will be how you adjust to new situations, how you assess your abilities and how you react to the persons with whom you associate in your profession, your recreation, and your home.

There was a time when these issues received little consideration by either faculty or students. It was assumed you would choose a job and advance in regular steps until retirement. You would settle, not too far away from home, but if you did move, it would be to a similar environment where you would live with nice people and not disturb your mind! Too often college did not prepare you for freedom. You learned of orderly change and revolution in history, but you did not think it could affect you. I fear that too many colleges and too many professors still think of life as it was before World War II. It is natural to be lazy, to follow the way of least resistance, and to resist change. But fewer and fewer persons can do this with any economic reward or personal satisfaction.

Your success in life will depend upon your freedom and flexibility—your ability to anticipate change, to evaluate it in the light of your knowledge of the facts and the principles which you have learned from previous situations. I do not need to tell you you will forget most of the facts you memorized for examinations—you have already done so! If your objectives are so narrow and specific that you are not concerned to know anything outside your major interest, you may find yourself unemployed or blocked from advancement by technological or social change.

You will prove the worth of your college education by the degree to which you remain flexible and accommodate yourself to occupational opportunities and new social situations. Your education has just begun. Ahead lies graduate study, technical training for a specific job and continuing education, both formal and informal, to improve your mind, help you to understand the society in which you live and satisfy your curiosity to know.

College Is Changing

If tomorrow's promise demands flexibility of you who are graduating, it demands it also of Juniata College. The college has changed—even in your four short years—but I anticipate that the adjustments in the years ahead will be more radical than anything we imagine this afternoon.

The major shift will be in emphasis—from teaching to learning. Curriculum and instruction will be altered to create situations to facilitate learning. The professor will do less lecturing—indeed, with television and electronic tapes, students will listen to outstanding authorities in the various fields of knowledge and the professor will be a discussion leader. Professors will work with upper-class students on topics and problems which they are studying independently.

If the emphasis is on learning, the curriculum must have greater flexibility. Students will enter college when they are ready, whether or not they have graduated from secondary school. They will proceed at their own pace—some slower and others faster. We do not know the exact form Juniata College will assume if the Commonwealth develops a pattern of two-year community colleges and the universities should ask the colleges to give the master's degree. But, we do know there will be many more learning resources to facilitate and motivate the great quest. Juniata College will continue to educate in principles and concepts and ways of solving problems.

Juniata is a resident college, without fraternities or sororities, and as such has learning opportunities built into its charter, but they must be used. I see in the years ahead more opportunities for student-faculty dialogue.

PLUS A NEED FOR INTEGRITY—FOR YOU AND JUNIATA

Academic buildings and college centers must be designed to provide more than faculty offices and student lounges. Students and faculty must meet in small groups for discussion and dispute.

There is no substitute for the habit of inquiry. If students are to develop this habit, faculty members must demonstrate it. The demands upon the college professor in the years ahead will increase—demands to keep abreast of the expansion of knowledge in a particular field and to develop imaginative ways of stimulating the student to analyze a problem into its parts and then calmly appraise all hypotheses. The college must provide, within its means, the tools and opportunities which the professor needs to continue his education, his research, his scholarly pursuits, even after he is a doctor of philosophy!

A great deal has been said and written for and against federal aid to education. The federal government has contributed to higher education through the land-grant colleges for more than a hundred years. Since World War II various agencies of the federal government have entered into contracts with independent non-tax supported colleges and universities like Juniata for many services. It is my conviction that our country needs these independent institutions to preserve the dual system of education—and these institutions will need assistance from the federal government in special forms and services if they are to provide the leadership for tomorrow's promise.

Need for Integrity

If you are to match tomorrow's promise, members of the Class of 1963, you will need integrity as well as flexibility. John Stuart Mill, in his inaugural address as rector of St. Andrews University, said the purpose of education is to make "capable and cultivated human beings. Men are men before they are lawyers or physicians or manufacturers; and if we make them capable and sensible men, they will make themselves capable and sensible lawyers or physicians." Samuel Johnson said, "Integrity without knowledge is weak and useless. Knowledge without integrity is dangerous and dreadful."

This may sound obvious and trite, but there is more to education than books and compounds, formulas and professors. There are all those experiences which make you a man or a woman—a man who can be depended upon to act in a certain way because it is characteristic of him.

Integrity is the enemy of mediocrity and shoddiness. The challenge of tomorrow will demand all of your effort—the courage to use all your abilities to excel and achieve. If you should miss out on something you desperately desired because you did not put forth sufficient effort or act as a responsible person, you will not remember favorably the professor who was easy or was so naive that you could be dishonest. Life is a severe task-master; comprehensive examinations come often, and the rewards are never up to our expectations.

In a recent issue of the Saturday Review the editor, Norman Cousins, discussed "Meaning in the Human Arena." He was critical of the meaninglessness in contemporary fiction and theatre. "There is no real love for life in these plays. The main question before humanity is how to mobilize human intelligence and feeling in the making of a better and safer world," says Mr. Cousins. The promise of tomorrow demands the courage and wisdom of a man—a man with the freedom and integrity which comes from discipline and ceaseless effort.

Juniata Must Respond

Just as tomorrow's promise will demand freedom and integrity from the Class of 1963 it will demand them from Juniata College. We see that flexibility will be required but what is the constant factor? Do institutions of higher learning have integrity? Or do they simply follow student demand and social mores? What is meant by the phrase, "a college with integrity?" It does not refer to an institution's age or church relation or size of endowment. Integrity simply means that a college can be depended upon to do what it advertises it will do. It does not promise or attempt more than it can successfully accomplish. Therefore Juniata College must be surveying constantly what it is doing, what it professes to do, and measure its accomplishments by all suitable criteria.

Juniata has never been a college for geniuses—although a very few have survived! Juniata will continue to admit students with intellectual capacity and then develop in them an appetite to know so they will accomplish more in graduate school and life than would have been expected when they entered college. I expect to live long enough to see educational institutions judged on the basis of what they do for students rather than on the college board scores of their freshmen. Juniata will always oppose the natural detour into trivialities and encourage the student by imaginative means to employ all his capacities in the pursuit of knowledge.

Juniata is a residential college and as such is a special kind of community within the town of Huntingdon. Here living and learning takes place together. Students learn as much from each other as from professors. The life in the residences and dining areas should be an integral part of the learning situation. More occasions will be found for faculty and students to eat together, and I even detect a desire for more leisurely dining.

Athletic contests, extra-curricular activities and social events—all contribute to the development of mature men and women. Any activity which perpetuates childishness or irresponsibility has no place at Juniata College. Passing from adolescence to maturity is a painful process—some never achieve it! However, parents and educators too often make it too easy to remain a child. At Juniata a serious effort is made to learn to live graciously and considerately with other persons. There is here a tradition

AFTER A YEAR ABROAD

By Ronald M. Smelser '64

THE OPPORTUNITY to study in a foreign culture is both an honor and a challenge. There is much to be gained in becoming familiar with the customs and people of another land, to exchange opinions and most important, to reach an understanding with these people.

This opportunity was afforded to a group of 24 American college students from six Brethren colleges through the BCA, Brethren Colleges Abroad program, instituted last year. In accordance with this program these students received favorable passage terms to Europe, and once there, were gradually introduced to the European university life in one of the older, tradition-filled German universities—Marburg.

This writer, along with four other representatives of Juniata College with the group, after being familiar with similar programs, has been very much impressed, for the BCA program has been so constituted as to not only afford the student the advantages of living in a foreign culture, but also to allow the student full opportunity to keep his studies up to a level acceptable at the home college.

The program is not a 10-week excursion in "scenic Old Germany," as are many others, but is a full year of study, by which, side by side with travels, etc., the student can earn his required credits.

This year of study, aside from a pre-semester orientation study, has been completely within the realm of the German university itself. The students have had the opportunity to fit in completely into the German student life with a minimum of control from BCA itself.

Thus, in the course of the past ten months, whether it be with families, choirs, Verbindungen and other organizations, or simply with friends, each of the 28 students has had the chance to learn intimately the German way of life.

In this writer's opinion, the BCA program, although subject to the growing pains of a pioneer attempt, has been a success. We have accumulated many experiences, memories and insights into the problems that plague relations between people today. A broadening of horizons is perhaps a too-much used, or rather misused, expression.

At any rate, all of the members of the first junior year abroad program have a somewhat better understanding of the German people as well as the memory of Marburg. It is a year that none of us will soon forget!

Parents Elect

NEW OFFICERS of the Juniata Parents Association are now in office with Frank O. Bowers, Williamsport, father of Robert '64, serving as president. Edward Champion, Pleasantville, N. J., is vice-president.

Other newly elected members of the executive committee are: Mr. and Mrs. Albert W. Asendorf, Hollidaysburg; and Mrs. Bruce Bratton, McVeytown; Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Buckwalter, Pottstown; Mr. and Mrs. F. S. O'Sullivan, Hingham, Mass.; Dr. and Mrs. Clayton C. Pheasant, Huntingdon; and Mr. and Mrs. Miles E. Ranck, Barnesboro.

tion of student responsibility which will grow because a majority recognize that mediocrity and vulgarity are not satisfying.

The Truth Sets Free

Juniata College was born in the mind of Andrew B. Brumbaugh, a practicing physician in Huntingdon, almost a hundred years ago. He labored to form an institution of higher learning out of a Christian conviction, but before the denomination to which he belonged would accept higher education. Therefore Juniata has always been an independent college but related to the Church of the Brethren. The motto of the College, chosen by President I. Harvey Brumbaugh, is Veritas Liberat—the truth sets free. Dr. Brumbaugh could not have imagined truth, apart from God, who is the creator and redeemer. Its Christian perspective is part of the integrity of this college. This is the point of view against which all its activities must be measured. Here is the conviction that both man and nature are best understood as creatures of the Divine Mind, revealed in Jesus Christ. The ecumenical spirit of this age is found in the many denominations represented in the faculty and students. Of this we are proud—although this tolerance would not have been understood by the founders. A Christian college should not attempt to impose any religious beliefs but every graduate should have an understanding of Christian thought and humility in the presence of great historic convictions. This age needs a recovery of essential human dignity. A person, who bears the image of the living God, is worthy of respect because of what he is and what he may become.

Tomorrow's promise will require of you and of Juniata College freedom and integrity: freedom to leave the past behind and make changes, having examined the alternatives and weighed the evidence; integrity of purpose, to be honest with yourself and your associates.

Felix Morley, a former president of Haverford College, said, "The success of a small college is not whether it produces great men, for that will rarely happen. But does it implant in mediocre men, such as most of us are, a capsule of liberal dreams, a tenderness for problems of spirit and conscience, a loosening of the imagination and an eagerness to contradict the cruelties or stupidities of their age?" This is our hope for you and for Juniata!

*Three Vice-Presidents Appointed,
Bill Martin Takes Alumni Post;
Degrees Awarded to 125 Seniors*

CROSS-CUTTING THE CAMPUS

THE APPOINTMENT of three vice-presidents of the College has been approved by the board of trustees in a move to provide "a more defined administrative organization." Four other administrative staff appointments also were announced by President Ellis.

Dr. Morley Mays '32, dean of the college, was named vice-president for academic affairs; John T. Fike '35, vice-president for financial affairs; Harold B. Brumbaugh '33, vice-president for development.

Dean Mays '32

Mr. Brumbaugh '33

In announcing the appointments, President Ellis stated that Dr. Mays will continue to be dean of the college, a post he has held since 1948, along with a professorship in philosophy. Mr. Fike will continue as treasurer and Mr. Brumbaugh will retain his responsibility in public relations.

William B. Martin '59, has been named director of alumni relations and placement following the recent appointment of Mr. Brumbaugh as vice-president for development. Harold has served as alumni secretary at the College for 24 years and has been assistant to the president since 1936.

Martin, who joined the staff last year as associate alumni secretary, will take over direct supervision of alumni activities and aid in the supervision of the Parents Association.

Paul F. Friend '38, business manager since 1946, has been named assistant to the treasurer, John T. Fike. Friend, a native of Garrett, Pa., will direct college purchasing as part of his new duties.

At the same time it was announced that A. E. (Gene) Esterline of LaRue, Ohio, is superintendent of buildings and grounds. Esterline, a mechanical construction supervisor for the past eight years, took over the responsibilities formerly shared by Friend and Don C. Schaaf, superintendent of grounds. Schaaf accepted a position at Cornell University.

The appointment of John V. Hollinger '58, Huntingdon, as full-time registrar at the College became effective July 15.

Hollinger, a furniture store manager and former president of the Huntingdon Area Junior Chamber of Commerce, succeeds Dr. Ronald L. Cherry '53, associate professor of economics. Dr. Cherry, registrar since 1960, will devote full time to classroom instruction.

125 Receive Degrees

BACHELOR'S DEGREES were conferred by Juniata June 2 on 125 seniors who learned that "tomorrow's promise will require freedom and integrity" of both them and their college.

In his first commencement message to Juniata's graduating class in his 20 years as president of the college, Dr. Calvert N. Ellis stressed that there must be "freedom to leave the past behind and make changes . . . and integrity of purpose."

Mr. Fike '35

"Your future and the future of Juniata College are inexorably bound together," President Ellis emphasized as he spoke on "Tomorrow's Promise." (Editor's note: The address of President Ellis is reprinted in this issue).

He conferred bachelor of arts degrees on 56 and bachelor of science degrees on 69. There were 75 men and 50 women among the June graduates.

Five With Honors

FIVE OF THE SENIORS were graduated with honors at June Commencement. Leading the class was Gary A. Smith, Altoona, who was graduated summa cum laude after completing his work with distinction in two departments, English and philosophy.

Other honor graduates were: David N. Bailey, Irwin, and John M. Cramer, Mifflintown, magna cum laude; Barry B. Moore, Roaring Spring, and Mary K. Wieand, Lombard, Ill., cum laude.

Smith won the Humanities Prize in Division II; Cramer took the William S. Price social studies award in Division II; Bailey and Moore were winners of the Dr. Andrew B. and Maria F. Brumbaugh science prizes in Division III.

Other winners were Margaret J. (Peggy) Robinson, Lombard, Ill.,

Honorary Degree for President Ellis

THE ACHIEVEMENT and service of Dr. Calvert N. Ellis during his 20 years as president of Juniata College was recognized by an honorary degree conferred in a surprise announcement at commencement.

In a unique action of appreciation, the board of trustees awarded President Ellis a Doctor of Laws degree which was presented by Dr. Joseph V. Kline '13, New York lawyer and chairman of the board. The announcement had been "a closely guarded secret," Dr. Kline revealed.

The degree was conferred "for his achievements as an educator and a leader in many kinds of enterprise, both here and in the national eye, and in recognition of his two decades as president of Juniata."

Presenting Dr. Ellis for the honor was Dean Morley Mays, vice-president for academic affairs, whose citation stated: "During his lifetime and largely under his leadership, Juniata has reached its eminence in the world of liberal arts colleges."

Dr. Ellis was cited as "one who believes that in education people are more important than systems and gimmicks. In his educational leadership he has the gifts of clear vision, quick perception, personal warmth, and unrelenting drive."

Justina Marstellar Langdon prize, and Betty Jane Sypherd, Pottstown, Women's Fellowship Council senior girl prize.

Dr. Baker Heads Board

DR. JOHN C. BAKER '17, Essex Fells, N. J., retired president of Ohio University and one-time representative to the United Nations Economic and Social Council (UNESCO), has been elected chairman of the board of trustees.

A member of the board since 1936, Dr. Baker succeeds Joseph V. Kline '13, Scarsdale, N. Y., a lawyer in New York City.

William R. Flory '21, Harrisburg, president and director of Grenoble Hotels Inc. and a director of American Hotels Corp., was elected vice-chairman of the board. Four officers were re-elected: John W. Swigart '30, secretary; John T. Fike '35, treasurer; Anna Groninger Smith, assistant secretary; and Hilda Nathan, assistant treasurer.

Denton B. Emmert '36, Dearborn, Mich., director of compensation planning office, industrial relations staff of Ford Motor Company, was elected to a vacancy for a three-year term. He formerly served as an alumni representative on the board.

Once-a-Week Convocation

CONVOCATION SERVICES at the College will be held only once each week—at 10 a. m. Wednesdays—and will be extended to 45 minutes beginning in September.

The once-a-week program with religious emphasis will replace the two half-hour convocations which have been held Mondays and Thursdays for the past four years. "Chapel services" were held three times a week for many years.

A trustee directive requiring attendance of students at convocation will be continued. The new arrangement will result in one minor adjustment for lunch in the time schedule on Wednesdays.

Cultural programs will be arranged by departments in the future rather than scheduled in morning convocations. The proposal was devised and approved following conferences with student leaders.

Humanities Emphasis

AN "INCREASED EMPHASIS" and additional funds for the Humanities Division of the College have been approved by the executive committee of the board of trustees.

This action clears the way to initiate a program of visiting professorships in comparative studies and residencies in the arts, proposed by the faculty in the Division of Humanities. The Division presented a proposal to the administration "to implement and develop . . . the dual concentration concept . . . and the visiting professorships."

In addition, the trustees have approved the renovation of the Carnegie Library as an Art Center after the new library is occupied next September.

The trustees also proposed the formation of a committee to study space utilization of facilities released by construction of the new library and the Science Center which is scheduled to be started in 1964.

Simpson Scholar

THE RICHARD M. SIMPSON memorial scholarship — highest award for incoming freshmen at Juniata — has been given to Larry H. Garthoff, R. D. 1, Vintondale, Pa.

Garthoff, a graduate of United High School (Armagh), was named from "five outstanding candidates." He will receive a scholarship of $1,000 for each of four years. He intends to major in chemistry.

Students in the News

SELECTION of the College's second group of students who will take their junior year of study at Marburg University, West Germany, has been announced. The four sophomores accepted are: Jacqueline L. Morelock, Littlestown; Christy J. Schorsch, Pittsburgh; James W. Scott, Butler, and Linda M. Shiley, Harrisburg.

In addition, another group of five have been selected to study at Strasbourg, France. They are: Ralph H. Colflesh, Philadelphia; Suzanne K. Judy, Somerset; C. Christine LeFevre, Westminster, Md.; Rebecca E. Plummer, Fairton, N. J., and Juanita H. Williams, Aliquippa.

Two seniors, Gary A. Smith, Altona, and Mary K. Wieand, Lombard, Ill., received honorable mention for the annual awards made by the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation.

John N. Cramer, Mifflintown, senior in history, won the "general information" contest sponsored by the

Room Honors Custodian

A CONFERENCE ROOM in Founders Hall honoring the memory of a man who was custodian in the building for 17 years was dedicated in a brief ceremony in June. The late Robert H. Jackson served as custodian of Founders Hall for 17 years, 1924-41, and was known by many generations of Juniatians.

Prior to his death Sept. 27, 1962, Bob asked his wife, Myrtle, to present a gift to Juniata College. She has contributed funds which were used to furnish a conference room on third floor, Founders Hall, where faculty and administrative offices are now located.

Mrs. Jackson attended the gathering of members of Juniata's maintenance, housekeeping and administrative staff, in Founders Chapel. Words of appreciation for the contribution of Mr. and Mrs. Robert H. Jackson were expressed by President Calvert N. Ellis.

English Program

THE RESPONSIBILITY for using our language effectively "should not be limited to one special department" according to Dr. Harold C. Binkley, professor of English, emeritus, at the College.

Prof. Binkley expressed his opinion in an article entitled "There Must Be a Better Way" in the May issue of The CEA Critic, official publication of the College English Association.

He reveals how Juniata College "quietly and contentedly slaughtered the sacred cow of freshman composition" in the late thirties and set up a "conference program" in English which continues today.

In 1938, Prof. Binkley established "a stripped-down tutorial structure in which every student could have a half hour conference every two weeks under the help and guidance of an English adviser."

Basically, the Juniata program in English is designed to help "each student to identify from his past performance (in all departments) his own difficulties and to take his full share of the responsibility for improvement."

THE JUNIATA SPORTS PARADE

Trackmen Boast Top Season

JUNIATA'S "WINNINGEST" track and field team not only brightened the pages of the Indians' sports history book this spring, but it also put a new glow in Coach Mike Snider's memory book.

The 1963 trackmen "celebrated" Snider's 30th year as head coach by winning 10 and losing one to far exceed the previous high total of victories for a single season in 50 years of intercollegiate competition.

It was 'way back in 1937 when Snider's track team posted a 3-0 record and that had remained the best until this year. He had another unbeaten season (2-0) in his first year, 1931.

Eight other teams during the first 20 years of track at Juniata had been undefeated, but none ever participated in more than three meets (five of these were 1-0 records, two were 2-0 and one was 3-0).

A trio of "dedicated" seniors—Bob Berthold, Totowa, N. J., Rob Gardner, Wrightstown, Pa., and George Zeigler, Elizabethtown, Pa.—set a fast pace for the 40-man squad. Each scored heavily and each tied or bettered records during the season.

Berthold and Gardner became the first individual winners for the Tribe in the Middle Atlantics championship since 1955. Berthold won the two mile and set a new Juniata record of 9:54.4 while Gardner took first in the 220. However, Gardner's strongest race was the 440 where he equalled a 50.0 mark in his final race against Albright. The record was set in 1938 by Don Snider. Berthold also bettered the mile mark with a 4:27, but his time was unofficial as he finished third in the MACs.

Zeigler tied a 21-year record of 6-2 in the high jump in a three-way meet with Bucknell and Lycoming.

Snider's track squad won four dual meets, took first in three triangular contests, but lost only to Gettysburg in a close dual clash. Their third place finish in the MACs with 29½ points was the best in Tribe history.

This sparkling performance by the trackmen provided Juniata with its only winning team on the spring sports program which finished well below par—17 victories, 31 defeats, one tie. The golf team, once the class of the Middle Atlantics, suffered its first all-losing season.

	Won	Lost	Tied	Pct.
Track	10	1	0	.909
Baseball	6	8	1	.429
Tennis	1	10	0	.091
Golf	0	12	0	.000
Total	17	31	1	.354

Not only was track the "winningest" sport for the Indians this spring but it also attracted enthusiastic spectators. This is part of the crowd for the eighth annual Juniata College Invitational Relays for 300 mid-state scholastic trackmen. In the background is the new Langdon Field for baseball and Lion's Back.

Home Games Re-Located

The Indians' four home football games this fall will be played at War Veterans Memorial Field, site of Huntingdon Area high school games, Standing Stone Ave. near Blair Park. Kickoff time has been set for 2 p. m. each Saturday.

The change of location was necessary because of re-construction of College Field now under way.

Langdon Field Completed

THE PARTING of company between the College's baseball diamond and football field has been completed after many years of co-existence.

The new diamond, named Langdon Field in honor of a Huntingdon area coal operator (the late John Langdon), was completed sufficiently to permit the Indians to use it the last half of the spring season.

Then, in July, re-construction of the track and football field began.

Improvements in the athletic layout began last summer when Mr. Langdon's son, Chester J. Langdon, Huntingdon, approved the use of an estimated $70,000 from the fund set up in 1930. The covered grandstand was demolished and the new baseball field was built in a different location.

Work was postponed on a new track and football field at that time "because bids on the original project were far in excess of available money." Revised plans made possible the awarding of a contract to Clair M. Love, Shirleysburg, Pa., to re-build the track and gridiron for "about $30,000."

Sports Stew

THE STANFORD MICKLE athletic trophy—top award for sports leadership at the College—was presented to Robert S. Gardner '63, Wrightstown, Pa., at the college's All-Sports banquet. Gardner, a pre-law student, was a three-year letterman in track and cross-country, vice-president of his class, active in intramural sports, and played junior varsity basketball. He was one of the major reasons for Juniata's highly improved showing in track this spring.

Nine top-ranking athletes in eight intercollegiate sports received alumni trophies this spring. Newest trophy for wrestling, donated by David L. Helsel '61, Hollidaysburg, was won by Duane Ruble '65, Sinking Spring, Pa. Bob Berthold '63, Totowa, N. J., and Tony Faber '63, Aliquippa, were repeat winners in cross-country (C. Clifford Brown) and baseball (Charles F. Goodale).

Other trophy winners were: Football line (George L. Weber), Grey Berrier '64, Harrisburg; Football back (J. Harold Engle), Ron Poruban '63, Portage; Basketball (Jack E. Oller), Leroy Mock '65, Imler, Pa.; Track (J. Foster Gehrett), Bob Gardner '63, Wrightstown; Tennis (Calvert N. Ellis), Jack Haskell '65, Clarion; Golf (C. Blair Miller), Mark Rappaport '66, Binghamton, N. Y.

The Indians' new football coach, Fred W. Prender, will take over the baseball team and D. Patrick Frazier '63, last year's basketball captain from

Co-Captains Selected

TWO STANDOUT linemen—one junior and one sophomore—have been elected co-captains of the 1963 football team.

Bill Crowell, 190-pound junior guard from Patton, Pa. and Pete Marzio, 208-pound sophomore tackle from West Milford, N. J. were selected by teammates. Marzio, a Butler High product, is the first underclassman to be honored in the past decade.

Brilliant as a sophomore and selected ECAC college division guard in 1961, Crowell suffered a broken leg in mid-season and sat out the last three games. Marzio also missed the final three games because of a head injury. Crowell is majoring in mathematics; Marzio is a pre-law student and on the Dean's List.

Hollidaysburg, will become coach of the jayvee cagers on a part-time assignment.

Prender, former backfield coach at Bucknell who joined the faculty July 1 as assistant professor of physical education, succeeds Earl C. Kaylor, Jr. '46. Frazier will relieve Ernest H. Post, Jr., an assistant professor of history, who is assistant coach of football and tennis coach.

Grey Berrier '64, husky catcher from Harrisburg, captured the Indians' batting title in baseball with a .345 average in 15 games this season, and was named to the Middle Atlantic Conference all-star team.

Juniata's portly 230-pound left-hander from Luzerne, Don Engle, was the team's leading pitcher. He had a 2.09 earned run average in posting a 3-2-1 record. His 58 strikeouts was a team high. Engle, a sophomore, won his third letter in a major sport this season. He also lettered in football and basketball.

THE DEVELOPMENT STORY

JUNIATA COLLEGE continued its progress toward realization of the goal in the long-range development program as total subscriptions increased to $2,362,482 at the close of the college fiscal year.

Alumni were facing up to the challenge in meeting their share of the $5,350,000 goal as totals showed $456,729 on the books after the second round of area campaigns. This year's totals included amounts subscribed in seven regional drives held a year ago.

During the past year, the alumni bolstered the development program totals by conducting solicitations in five other regions—Chicago, Florida, California, Boston and Upstate New York. In addition, some $9,966 was subscribed in a direct mail effort.

The year-end summary, released by Harold B. Brumbaugh '33, vice-president for development, indicated that 1,562 alumni have supported the overall campaign with an average subscription of $221.

Foundations and industries have pledged the major share of the totals to date—$1,157,840. Members of the board of trustees have subscribed $236,055 and an almost identical sum of $236,455 has been pledged by the Huntingdon area business and industrial community. Bequests of $140,575 and pledges from other sources of $134,826 have been included in the totals as of June 30, 1963.

SUBSCRIBERS TO DEVELOPMENT FUND (Alumni Phase)

Subscribers to the Alumni Phase of the Development Program in the first year (1961-62) of the three-year program were listed in the Summer Issue 1962. The following names include all subscribers whose cards were returned in the college fiscal year, 1962-63. In the seven areas where the campaigns were conducted in 1961-62, new names are added in this listing. In other regions the campaigns were conducted in 1962-63. Alumni living elsewhere were contacted through a direct mail campaign; their names are listed in the last part of this report. If for any reason a subscriber's card was not returned or his name has been inadvertently omitted from the listing (or if there is any error in the listing, such as spelling or class numerals), please notify the Development office promptly.

*Total Giving to College Is $506,678
For Largest Sum in a Single Year;
Alumni Contribute $147,043 to Fund*

THE 1963 REPORT OF GIFTS

TOTAL GIVING to Juniata College soared to another record high of $506,678 for the college year ending June 30, 1963, as the interest in the development program continued to encourage more contributions from alumni.

In fact, the willingness of alumni to contribute resulted in a record total of $147,043 in the 24th year of the Juniata Alumni Fund—$14,100 more than last year's previous high, according to Harold B. Brumbaugh '33, vice-president for development.

This amount was contributed by 1,696 alumni who accounted for another unusually high record with an average contribution of $86.95.

Again a significant factor is the high level of giving by members of the 100 Club—which now numbers 296 and the 1,000 Club, totaling 37 members.

In addition to alumni, the major increases in total gifts came from bequests and gift annuity agreements. Some $39,038 was received in bequests and $85,330 in gift annuities. Money from Foundations also increased to $92,907 this year.

Research grants continued to provide a significant amount of $53,728 in the total report. Business and industry contributed $32,852, Associates added $27,877, and church giving accounted for $23,505. The Parents Association generously added $4,396 to show interest in the college's development program.

The Class of '37 led all other classes in amount contributed with $8,374 and an average contribution of $204.24. Runner-up honors in the Top Ten for amount contributed was 1930 with $8,276, an average contribution of $212.20.

Leading the ten best by percentage participation for the classes up to 1919 were the classes of 1906 with 76% and 1891 and 1904, each with 50%. In the classes since that date, 1932 took first place with 60% participation. The Class of 1950 had the most contributors, 71.

Recognition for Improved Giving

Juniata College has won recognition by the American Alumni Council for improvement among "large coeducational colleges" in the 1963 Alumni Giving Incentive Award competition.

An honorable mention award of $125 was presented to Harold B. Brumbaugh, vice-president for development and former alumni secretary, at the AAC's 50th anniversary conference in Atlantic City.

Named to the two grand awards of $5,000 were St. Lawrence University for achieving the most improvement in alumni support and Dartmouth College for the most outstanding sustained performance in alumni support.

Juniata was one of five Pennsylvania colleges among the 70 institutions recognized by the 1963 awards which are financed by the U. S. Steel Foundation. More than 300 entries were received.

EDITOR'S NOTE: The following list includes the names of all who contributed to the Alumni Fund during the college's fiscal year ending June 30, 1963. In a number of cases individuals received diplomas or degrees in various departments of the Brethren's Normal School and Juniata College. The name is listed in the year in which the most recent award was granted with preference given to bachelor degrees in most cases. Contributors whose names may have been inadvertently omitted should notify the alumni office at once.

A STRONG SENSE OF LOYALTY

FOR THE PAST THREE YEARS it has been my privilege to serve as an alumni representative on the Board of Trustees and observe this board at work as it assumed the responsibilities for the overall operations of Juniata College. In addition it was, also, my privilege to sit in on the policy and planning meetings for the total alumni relations program. Such experiences help one realize the importance of our alumni group to our college. Their contributions have not only assisted in a significant manner with the fund-raising effort for the Development Program, but have provided "seed money" for new sources of support in a program which is too extensive for the alumni to meet.

It is interesting to note that in the preceding year Juniata's annual alumni giving exceeded all previous records in annual support. Moreover, the total support in contributions exceeded any previous year. Figures in this report show that this year new records have been established.

There is a noticeable feeling of development, expansion and growth on the campus at Juniata College giving evidence that Juniata is holding its own in these days of change and upgrading among the colleges and universities in this country. Juniata has been the recipient of an achievement award by the American Alumni Council and the United States Steel Foundation for improvement in alumni giving. This is, indeed, attributed to a strong sense of loyalty on the part of the alumni of our alma mater.

Murphy Annuity Established

THE REV. AND MRS. ROSS D. MURPHY arranged during Dr. Murphy's life-time that a joint annuitant fund should be created at Juniata College. After Dr. Murphy's death (Dec. 31, 1962), Mrs. Murphy added to this fund making a total of $40,000 which at the expiration of the annuity contract will be added to the "J. M. Fogelsanger" bequest creating a $75,000 endowed professorship to be known as the "Fogelsanger-Murphy Professorship."

This gift expresses a tribute to the combined interest of Ross D. and Florence F. Murphy and of J. M. Fogelsanger in Juniata College "as a Christian institution and for its academic future."

The Rev. Dr. Murphy served as pastor of the First Church of the Brethren in Philadelphia for 23 years and as pastor in Shippensburg for eight years until his retirement in 1962. He was president of Blue Ridge College, New Windsor, Md., from 1919 to 1922, and had served on Juniata's board of trustees for 32 years.

Annuity Gift for Physics

JUNIATA HAS BECOME THE RECIPIENT of a gift annuity contract for $38,000 arranged by Dr. William I. Book '96, Narberth, Pa., to aid in establishing a professorship in physics.

An emeritus professor of physics at the University of Pennsylvania, Dr. Book is an emeritus member of Juniata College's board of trustees. He received a Normal English degree from Juniata in 1896, and an M.E. in 1898.

The fund was arranged by Dr. Book and his wife, the late Zella Benedict Book, to supplement other funds provided by them at the expiration of the contract, according to Harold B. Brumbaugh, vice-president for development. Mrs. Book also held two degrees from Juniata College.

Dr. Book was a member of the University of Pennsylvania faculty in the department of physics from 1909 to 1945 when he was retired and appointed emeritus. He also is a minister of the Church of the Brethren and holds membership at First Church of the Brethren, Philadelphia.

REFLECTIONS OF AN ALUMNUS

By Marlyn W. Miller, M.D. '29

ANOTHER SPRING COMMENCEMENT has come and gone at more than 1,100 accredited colleges and universities in the United States and some 4,000,000 students have left Alma Mater to go to their homes for vacation or to begin employment somewhere in this broad land of ours. Many years have passed since the writer likewise left college not to return except as a visitor—and the thoughts aroused on the occasion of that visit may not be unique.

The first thought was of pride in the new buildings, the enlargement of the campus, the increase in enrollment and the sense of the growth of the college in academic stature.

Sense of Change

The second thought was the sense of change. As the student throng passed along the walks into the classrooms, the dormitories, the dining halls, the library, the gymnasium and the playing fields, there were no familiar faces. The student throng one knew had long ago scattered throughout the cities, towns, and countryside. In one way there was a feeling of sadness at this constant change in the student body and yet this change was the very essence of college, the only justification for its existence being education of individuals during a certain limited period of their lives.

The third thought was of the opportunities of the present generation of college students and the seriousness of their responsibilities. It is worthy of note that the younger generation of this country has no personal recollection of the great Depression of the Thirties or of the devastating World War II.

It accepts radio, television, jet travel, powerful automobiles, atomic energy, antibiotics and the new medicine and the wonders of science quite casually as though these always existed. And just as casually it accepts the problems of race strife, the Cold War, the draft and the menace of Socialism. Each generation has had to face up to problems and the latter are its problems. May it measure up to them so that our country will continue to be "the land of the free and the home of the brave."

The fourth thought was pleasure in looking back on one's own college experiences. It may be remembered that Dante after the ascent on the Mountain of Purgatory remarked "All men are delighted to look back." And yet the dust of years has dimmed much that one would like to recall. College days for most people are days of youth, of health, of optimism, of freedom from responsibility, of looking ahead, of ideals, of associations with others and most importantly of learning the ideas and skills handed down by the great minds of the past and present.

Looking Back

Perhaps the memory of the names of many fellow students will have faded with the years—actually, how many did one know well?—and yet the memory of habits of study, of literature, of science, of religion and of a way of life will have faded little because of habitual recall. As Hamilton Wright Mabie, in the book Under The Trees, stated it, "The potency of college memories lies in the fact that in those years we made the most memorable discoveries of our lives."

The fifth thought was gratitude for the teachers who unselfishly gave of their culture as well as of their learning. In speaking of teachers the late Dr. Martin G. Brumbaugh stated "you are today what you are because a teacher taught you." In looking back upon his teachers in college one feels about many of them as though he had been near greatness when he was with them. To recite their names would be useless because so many recent alumni would know them not. Most of them have long since died and of them individually one might quote what Galsworthy has said of Conrad, "If to a man's deserts is measured out the quality of his rest, he shall sleep well."

How Little We Knew

The sixth thought was how little we really knew of life itself when we were graduated. We believed that we were really educated. Educated we were, if by education one means being equipped with some basic facts and a method of learning more facts. Only the years bring the realization that "education is a life-long business" and that "we are all ignorant but not of the same thing."

There is one phase of experience in a Christian college which leaves its impression on all alike whether it be one's destiny to prepare to serve as housewife, merchant, teacher, scientist, lawyer, doctor, dentist, minister or the manifold other occupations. This experience was expressed well in the baccalaureate sermon of Dr. M. G. Brumbaugh to the Juniata Class of 1926 when he said:

"I entreat you to acquire and honor the virtue of religion, which is humility—by which I mean the recognition of your own limitations and the unlimited power, wisdom, knowledge of Almighty God. There will come times in your life when your knowledge will fail you. Questions will arise for which you have no answer. You will turn to the wisest about you, and from them you will get no answer. You will turn to the vast treasures of human knowledge in library and museum, and from these you will receive no answer. Shut in! Darkness, dread, distress, disaster face you. For, as Dr. Holland says, 'There are questions above reason, and there are movements in the soul of man before which his mind must stand in awe,' questions of moment, of vital importance such as How did I get into this world? . . . How shall I get out of it? . . . If a man die shall he live again? Happy that person, who in these crises, when all human guidance fails, can place his hand in the hand of the Almighty and say 'Father, lead thou me on.'"

A final thought: attendance at a college was a rewarding experience to those of us fortunate enough to attain it. It had its joys, its pleasures and its values in training for service. Our college has given much to us; may we, as we are able, give much in return!

'53 INVESTORS CONTRIBUTE $5,817

CURRENT READING for the benefit of the entire college community will be provided through the efforts of the "53 Investors," a group of 50 members of the Class of 1953 who formed an investment club 10 years ago to raise money for a contribution to the college.

At their 10th reunion on Alumni Day, June 1, those members of the club who were present decided upon the appropriate use of the funds, amounting to $5,817.15, and announced an endowment gift. The income from the class contribution will be used for the purchase of "current books of both fiction and non-fiction for a browsing collection in the central area of the new library."

It all started in the spring of their senior year when 47 members of the class met to consider some appropriate way to commemorate their days at Juniata. The class treasury was low and likely to remain so. Thus, it was decided to select a later date to make a contribution.

These 47, plus three who joined later, became the '53 Investors Club. Each member was expected to pay $10 each year for 10 years. The funds would be invested each year. At the end of the 10-year period, the total investment would be turned over to the College.

This past June marked the end of that 10th year. A total of $4,199.62 had been contributed in shares; stock appreciation, interests and dividends raised the total to $5,817.15.

The tenth year reunion of the Class of '53 was a gala occasion at Motel 22.

HUSBAND-WIFE PASTORAL 'TEAM'

THE COMBINED TALENTS of two Juniataans, the Rev. Paul C. Shaffer '50 and his wife, Mona Thompson Shaffer '49 have been providing "a rare bargain" for the congregation of the Bellefonte, Pa., Methodist Church.

Newspapers in Altoona and Bellefonte carried feature stories and photographs of the Shaffer family (see picture) this spring to reveal the "bargain" of having two fully ordained ministers to serve the church.

The Centre Democrat story explained that Mrs. Shaffer is "the only minister's wife in the Central Pennsylvania conference of nearly 600 churches who is also an ordained minister in her own right." She also is a certified elementary education teacher and the mother of two children.

The Rev. Mr. Shaffer, after graduation from Wesley Theological Seminary, was first assigned to the Clearville Methodist charge, a group of six churches in Bedford County. In 1951, he was transferred to the Mardorf Church, Mrs. Shaffer's home church in Altoona. She continued her ministerial training and was granted status as a "local preacher" in 1954.

The Shaffers were transferred to the Methodist charge at Osceola Mills in 1957 and then to Bellefonte in 1961. It was in 1961, too, that Mrs. Shaffer was ordained as a deacon, or fully qualified minister authorized to administer the sacraments.

In addition to being the pastor's wife, Mrs. Shaffer teaches the Young Couples class and is active in various functions including the Leadership Training School sponsored by the Bellefonte Council of Churches. She also fills the pulpit during vacations at Milesburg and Pleasant Gap and preaches a sermon now and then in the Bellefonte church. She is president of the State College District Woman's Society of Christian Service.

Despite all of their activity, the Shaffers take time each day with their children, Joy, 7, and Jill, 4.

And, although Mrs. Shaffer is fully qualified to serve a church of her own, she obviously prefers serving with her "senior pastor," the Rev. Mr. Shaffer.

Preparing a sermon is a family affair for the Shaffers, both of whom are Methodist ministers. Jill, 4, aids her father, the Rev. Paul C. Shaffer '50, and Joy, 7, is the helper for mother, Mona Thompson Shaffer '49. (See story)

NEW JERSEY SELECTS McCORKLE

A JUNIATA ALUMNUS, Lloyd W. McCorkle '40, is now heading New Jersey's largest branch of government — the Division of Institutions and Agencies.

McCorkle, a former prison warden, was named to the state Cabinet post in May. He supervises some 11,000 employees in running the state's welfare, penal and mental health programs.

Appointment of McCorkle ended widespread speculation that New Jersey might recruit a commissioner from out-of-state. McCorkle, who has a doctor's de-

In 1957 he was transferred to the central administration office of the institutions department. He served as director of correction and parole for the state prior to stepping into the commissioner's post.
